

RIPPLES IN THE WATER....

External Evaluation of the Research and Action (RA) project on
Traffic in Women in the Mekong Region
(Cambodia and Vietnam)
1997 - 2000

Nelleke van der Vleuten
Siriporn Skrobanek

January 2002

Research and Action (RA) project on Traffic in Women in the Mekong Region (Cambodia and Vietnam) 1997 - 2000

Implementing Agencies

Cambodia Women's Development Agency, (CWDA) Phnom Penh

Youth Research Institute (YRI), Hanoi

Vietnam Women's Union (VWU), Ho Chi Minh City & Tay Ninh Province

Facilitation and co-ordination

Global Alliance Against Traffic in Women (GAATW)

Funding agency

Royal Netherlands Embassy - Hanoi

Period Evaluation: 7 November - 14 December 2001

Report completed: January 2002

Global Alliance Against Traffic in Women (GAATW)

P.O. Box 36 Bangkok Noi Post Office, Bangkok 10700 Thailand

Tel: (66)(2) 8641427/8 Fax: (66)(2) 8641637

Email: gaatw@mozart.inet.co.th

Web Site: <http://www.inet.co.th/org/gaatw>

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

We would like to thank GAATW, especially Jan, Bandana and Mami and all the support staff in the Bangkok office, the three Implementing Agencies and the local women's groups for their full co-operation and participation in this review. They accompanied us during the visits, spent time with us in meetings, made all kinds of the arrangements, shared documents and were patient and open to respond to our (for them sometimes) naive requests for information and critical detailed questions. We hope and trust that the whole review process has been a positive learning experience for all of them and that GAATW and the IAs feel we have done justice to their work.

The same words of thanks are for all the translators: Mr. Souneak Yean Mak, Ms. Doan Tam Dan and Ms. Dang Hoang Anti Thu, and the other persons and organisations who were willing to give some of their valuable time to us.

We look back at a very enriching period, in which we as an 'outside insider' (Siriporn) and an 'inside outsider' (Nelleke) have been able to take stock of a project of which we were directly or indirectly godmothers.

Last but not least, we thank the Royal Netherlands Embassy for the confidence and task entrusted to us to conduct this review. We hope they are satisfied with the result.

Nelleke van der Vleuten & Siriporn Skrobanek
Nijmegen, The Netherlands / Bangkok, Thailand
January 2002

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Page

List of Abbreviations

Executive Summary	1
1 INTRODUCTION - THE RA-PROJECT AND THE EVALUATION	7
Start of the RA-project	7
A changing scenario	8
The evaluation	9
Purpose and methodology
Focus and limitations of the evaluation
Structure of the report	12
2 ORGANISATION, IMPLEMENTATION AND F-PAR METHODOLOGY	13
2.1 Organisation of the RA-project	13
2.1.1 Mandate and implementation by the IAs	13
Mandate
Cambodia - CWDA
Vietnam - YRI and VWU
Implementation of the project	14
Human resources
Financial resources
2.1.2 Role of GAATW	16
Institutional
Content
2.2 Application of the F-PAR methodology	19
2.3 The RA as a regional project	23
2.4 Conclusions and recommendations	23
3 PHASE I: RESEARCH AND POLICY	27
3.1 CAMBODIA	27
Research	27
Raise public & political awareness	28
Review & influencing of national policies & laws	28
Conclusions & Recommendations	29
3.2 NORTH VIETNAM	30
Research	30
Dissemination of the research findings and impact on policy changes	31
The special studies	32
Conclusions & Recommendations	32

3.3	SOUTH VIETNAM	33
	Information gathering	33
	Improvement of government measures to combat TiW	33
	Conclusions & Recommendations	33
3.4	GENERAL CONCLUSIONS & RECOMMENDATIONS	34
4	PHASE II - LOCAL ACTIONS FOR PREVENTION OF TRAFFICKING AND SUPPORT OF WOMEN	37
4.1	CAMBODIA	37
	Strengthen local women’s initiatives in addressing problems related to TiW	37
	Influencing migration?
	Sustaining the activities
	Support to women trafficked into prostitution	40
	Information, education and communication material	42
	Conclusions & Recommendations	43
4.2	NORTH VIETNAM	45
	Develop support services for the victims and potential victims of trafficking	45
	Formation of Women’s Groups (WGs)
	Transformation of and assistance from the local authority
	The ‘solidarity trip’
	Sustainability of the group and replication of the model
	Contribution to the prevention of TiW
	Development of information, education and communication materials	49
	Conclusions & Recommendations	50
4.3	SOUTH VIETNAM	51
	Assistance to women returnees & expansion of the model for self-management of women’s groups	52
	Information sharing and advocacy work	53
	Communication for prevention of TiW - through ‘peer educators’	54
	Information and communication on marriages to Taiwan	54
	Hotline	55
	Conclusions & Recommendations	55
4.4	REFLECTIONS ON APPROACHES FOR PREVENTION & SUPPORT	57
	Individual welfare approach	57
	Community-based approach	58
	The advocacy and collective-rights approach	58
	Conclusions and recommendations	59

5	CONCLUSIONS & RECOMMENDATIONS	61
	Overall results, effects and impact	61
	Contributions to policy change
	Towards better prevention and support
	The F-PAR methodology
	Replicability of the RA-project	67
	Regional dimensions
	Duration and structure
	The 'models'	68
	Recommendations	68
	ANNEXES	71
	Terms of reference	71
	Time frame review	76
	List of background information RA-project
	78
	Table & timeframe of activities RA-project
	79
	Presentations YRI and VWU for external meeting,
	14 December 2001	83

LIST OF ABBREVIATIONS

Caram	Co-ordination for Action Research on Mobility and Aids
CPU	Cambodia Prostitutes' Union
CWDA	Cambodia Women's Development Agency
FA	Facilitating Agency (GAATW)
FFW	Foundation For Women (Thailand)
F-PAR	Feminist Participatory Action Research
GAATW	Global Alliance Against Traffic in Women
GO	Governmental Organisation
H/A	HIV/ AIDS (awareness)
HCMC	Ho Chi Minh City
HR	Human Rights
IAs	Implementing Agency/ies (CWDA, YRI, VWU-HCMC and VWU-TN)
IEC	Information, Education and Communication material
IOM	International Organisation for Migration
MOLISA	Ministry for Labour, Invalids and Social Affairs (Vietnam)
(M)WVA	Ministry for Women's and Veteran Affairs (in Cambodia)
(I)NGO	(International) Non Governmental Organisation
NFE	Non Formal Education
PP	Phnom Penh
RA-project	Research and Action Project on Traffic in Women in the Mekong region (1997-2000)
RATW	Research and Action Project on Traffic in Women in Thailand (1992-1995)
RNE	Royal Netherlands Embassy
TiW	Traffic in women
TN	Tay Ninh Province (South Vietnam)
(V)WU	(Vietnam) Women's Union
VWU-HCMC	Vietnam Women's Union, Ho Chi Minh City (South Vietnam)
VWU- TN	Vietnam Women's Union, Tay Ninh Province (South Vietnam)
YRI	Youth Research Institute (Hanoi, North Vietnam)